3. Additional information you would like to include to help us place you on the project best suited for your skillset:

Exterior projects (i.e. decks, porches, wheelchair ramps, etc.) involve either replacing an existing structure or building a new freestanding structure. Interior projects always involve renovations. We do not build additions or replace roof systems.

We understand that completing a project on your own and at your own pace is very different from teaching and managing high school students (often unskilled) to do the work within a specific timeline. With that in mind, please complete the following:

Place a check next to the types of projects you have completed in the past three years:	Rank yourself on a scaled of 1-5 based on your confidence with teaching and managing high school students to complete these projects: 1 = very confident; 2 = confident; 3 = unsure; 4 = unconfident; 5 = very unconfident

CONTRACTOR CODE OF CONDUCT

Contractors must read, understand, agree, sign, and return this sheet. Please be sure that all contractors in your group understand and abide by these policies.

Basic Role of Contractors

The Office for Evangelization depends on the Adults to help facilitate order and to serve as a network of support for the youth. It is important that the Adults be an example of obedience and cooperation with the following policies as well as with our staff and volunteers on site. Because of the physical demands of the Work Camp, it is necessary that Adults be in good health. It is a very intense week and can be exhausting both physically and spiritually. Because of these conditions, it is not recommended that those with health problems participate as Adults.

Work Camp Contractors lead Crews in home improvement projects. You do not need to be a licensed contractor or a professional, but you should be someone who is knowledgeable and experienced with home improvement. This means that you know how to safely operate a range of tools, have worked with different materials, and are able to teach others what you know.

Duties of a Contractor

A Contractor's responsibilities include, but are not limited to, the following areas:

1. Alcohol, Drugs, and Smoking

- ✓ All state laws concerning alcohol and drugs will be strictly enforced.
- ✓ Possession and/or consumption of alcohol or drugs are not permitted on site during the retreat.
- ✓ All Work Camp sites and buildings are smoke-free facilities.

2. Appropriate Dress

- ✓ All participants are expected to dress in a fashion that represents modesty, respecting other participants and our Lord.
- ✓ Clothing must cover all undergarments and midriffs. Participants must wear shirts at all times.
- ✓ The Contractors are expected to help Chaperones enforce the dress code at the work sites during the Work Camp.

3. Participation

- ✓ At no time should a youth participant leave the Work Camp without one of their adult Chaperones. Adults are strongly discouraged from taking youth off site, except in the case of an emergency.
- ✓ It is to be understood that the said adult takes full responsibility for a youth if they depart Work Camp.

4. Housing

- ✓ All youth and adults must be in the sleeping areas by the designated times. If you have questions about how this applies to Contractors as the work progresses, please talk to a Lead Contractor.
- ✓ An atmosphere of quiet and respect is expected following the lights out time. Violators will be subject to appropriate discipline.

5. Insubordination

- ✓ It is expected that youth and adults will follow the direction of all Work Camp staff and volunteers.
- ✓ Any instances of lack of cooperation or insubordination will not be tolerated and will be subject to appropriate discipline.
- ✓ The first and primary method of dealing with discipline problems will be to work through the Group Leader.

The Catholic Diocese of Richmond reserves the right to deny entrance to or request the ejection of any group or individual who does not comply with the regulations and policies for the Work Camp. In the event that entrance is denied, or a person(s) is ejected, NO REFUND will be made.

I have read, understand, and agree to the above policies. I will ensure that anyone accompanying me to the event also understands and agrees to these policies.
